

SCENARIO 1

You wake up early with a bad cough. Your parents are still asleep, but you know where they keep the cough medicine.

SCENARIO 2

You are at your friend's house when you get a headache. Your friend's mom offers to give you medicine.

SCENARIO 3

You took medicine you got from the doctor. Now you feel sleepy.

SCENARIO 4

You did not sleep well last night and now you're very tired. Your friend offers you an energy drink and tells you it has caffeine and sugar to make you feel more awake.

SCENARIO 5

You're at a party where they are serving pop that has lots of caffeine in it. Your parents don't let you drink pop but they are not at the party.

SCENARIO 6

You are walking home from school with a friend when he lights a cigarette. He holds out the pack and offers you one. When you refuse, he says, “What, are you afraid you’ll get in trouble? Don’t be such a wimp!”